Tips to Remember

Paper - To protect your precious photographs, cut shapes from acid-free paper, cardstock or adhesive backed paper. Acid-free paper comes in a wide assortment of solid colors and printed designs. Cardstock works well but tends to dull scissors. Adhesive backed paper is convenient but it can leave a sticky residue on scissors.

Punches - Basic paper punches such as circles, hearts and stars are combined with shapes cut with wavy edge scissors to create easy and fun album pages and stationery. Use alcohol to clean adhesive residue from punches. Lubricate by punching through wax paper several times and sharpen by punching though aluminum foil.

Markers - Use permanent markers to draw faces, stitches and details.

Crimper - Place paper in the jaws of a crimper tool and twist handle to make corrugated paper that adds dimension to designs. Crimp paper first then cut out shapes or glue designs together.

Circle or Oval Cutter - Follow manufacturer's directions to cut perfect 2" to 7" circles or ovals from paper. Cutters have replaceable blades.

Paper Trimmer - Slide the cutting blade from top to bottom. Portable trimmers make accurate straight cuts. Both 8½" and 12" trimmers have replaceable blades.

Rotary Cutter - This cutter comes with a straight edge, self-healing mat and interchangeable decorative blades. Some blades duplicate designs available in wavy edge scissors. Scoring and perforating blades are also very useful.

Adhesive - 2-Way liquid glue is one of the best photo-safe adhesives. The pen-tip applicator works well for small shapes. For a permanent bond, dot adhesive on the shape and apply it to paper immediately. For a temporary bond, allow adhesive to dry before placing shape on paper. Use tweezers to hold small shapes while applying adhesive and to position small shapes on an album page.

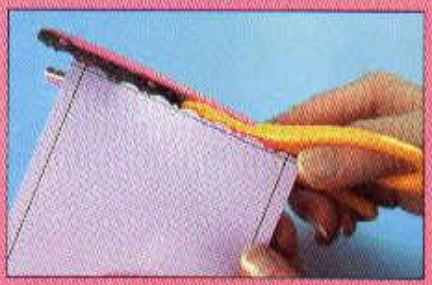
Straight Scissors - Use a pencil to draw light guidelines on the back of paper. Cut along guideline.



Wavy Scissors - Turn wavy edge scissors over to cut a second and different design. Create more designs by aligning scissor cuts in different ways. Cut a border or strip by making a second cut parallel to the first cut forming a mirror image. Cut other designs by shifting or misaligning the blade pattern on the second cut. For a continuous design, align scissors blade design with the previous cut. Do not cut to the very end of the blades.

How to Use Wavy Scissors

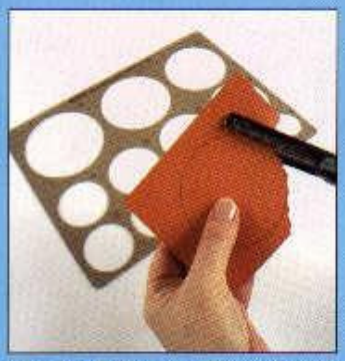
Start with Basic edges like the Scallop and Pinking wavy edges. It is easy to create hundreds of shapes with just these basics. Add a couple more edges as you make more designs. Remember, you can always substitute a different edge to create a different and sometimes better look!

Wavy-Edge Scissors are fun to use. Create inexpensive borders and designs from acid-free colored cardstock, paper and decorative ScrapHappy™ papers.

Ease in Cutting. Use a piece of paper about the size of the object to be cut.

End of Scissors. Do not cut to the tip of scissors. Stop just short of the end to avoid rough edges and to keep scissors ends from locking.

Two for One. Turn scissors over to make two different design edges.



Circles & Shapes. Move paper and hold the scissors steady when cutting out shapes and circles.

Two-Way or Tube Glue. Apply glue to a very tiny area. Arrange small pieces using tweezers.

Two-Way or Tube Glue. Squeeze a small amount of glue on cardboard or a plastic drink lid, then use a corsage pin to apply glue to very tiny areas.

Paper Strips. Very thin strips of paper will curve when glued down for stems. Cardstock is easier to cut into very thin strips because it has more body than regular paper.

'Boo-Boos'. Use sharp straight edge scissors to round small snags or to smooth rough edges. Sometimes small paper burrs can be removed with a fingernail emery board.

Cut Straight Lines. Draw light guidelines on the back of the cardstock or paper with a pencil. Cut with the wavy scissors lined up against the guideline.

Paper Trimmer. For straight lines, a paper trimmer is a wonderful tool. It can both cut and score.

Circle & Oval Cutter. As an option to cutting with scissors, a cutting tool is a wonderful aid. Cut a circle larger than needed, then trim around the edges with wavy scissors.

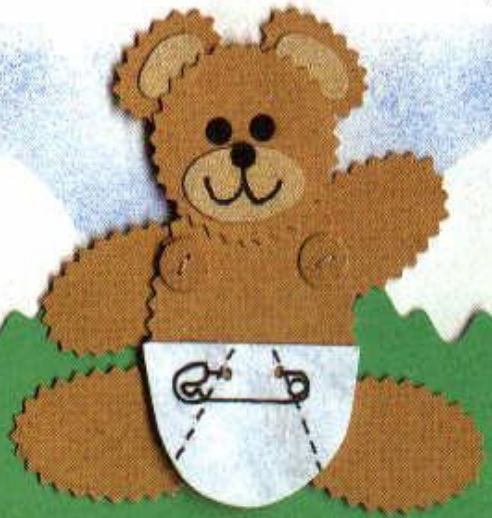
Magnetic Dolls

Simple Dolls - Just use the basic patterns on pages 8-9 to cut out and glue dolls to pages.

Magnetic Dolls - These dolls are fun to use in your scrapbook. All the clothes are interchangeable, so dolls can be dressed and redressed over and over. To protect magnetic clothes, laminate a clear cover on the top side. Magnets are great because they will work right through page protectors. Have Fun!

"Tigger our kitty loves to drink warm milk."



"Baby Ryan loves his little bear."

"Janie loves to wear blue."

http://groups.msn.com/PinturaMunecosManualidadesCountryGAB

Simple Dolls - Make dolls following cutting and punching instructions on pages 8 and 9. Trace clothing patterns on pages 6-7. Cut out and glue. Draw details with markers.

Magnetic Dolls - Cut sheet magnet to fit the back of body and a strip for clothes. Before gluing magnet to the back of clothes and body, test to see if the magnet is positioned correctly or needs to be turned over.

Jointed Bear - Cut body pieces for bear. Glue head to body. Use marker to draw the face. Punch a 1/16" hole in body where arms and legs attach. Punch a 1/16" hole in the top of each arm and leg. Punch 8 'buttons' using a 1/4" circle punch. Use a needle to make 2 holes in each 'button'. Cut a 6" piece of heavy thread. Insert one thread end down through each hole in a 'button'. Bring ends together and insert through hole in body, then through hole in arm. Separate thread ends and insert one end through each hole in second 'button'. Tie a knot. Repeat for remaining arm and legs.

Template Shapes

Plastic templates are available in a wide variety of sizes and shapes. Use basic shapes such as hearts, circles, ovals and squares as building blocks to make just the right design for your scrapbook page or stationery. Place any plastic template on the wrong side of paper and trace the required shape with a pencil. Use straight scissors to cut around the shape leaving a border wide enough to allow for the use of wavy edge scissors. Place wavy edge scissors against the pencil line and cut the shape. As you cut, turn the paper, not the scissors. To avoid mistakes, practice on scrap paper.
